Snow cover conditions and avalanche danger: Between Monday and Wednesday 10 to 15 cm of new snow fell above 1800 m. At the top altitudes, especially on the northern aspects and in the areas close to ridges and forks, the new snow formed small-sized and very localised accumulations, which could be released even by a single skier/hiker, especially on very steep slopes. Still old wind drift accumulations above 1800 m and to the N, which could be locally released, especially with a high overload. Forecast danger level: 2 (moderate) across the whole mountain territory.

Forecast for Thursday 08 March 2018, reliability: 70%

Possible releases and triggered avalanches with a generally high overload.
